Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

I am interested in serving on a Board or Commission because I care deeply about how local policy, public health systems, and community advocacy intersect to shape health outcomes for real people in our community. As a biomedical engineering major with a minor in public policy, I am trained to quickly identify needs, evaluate constraints, and think critically about practical solutions - skills that align closely with the responsibilities of advisory boards and commissions. This background has shaped the way I approach community challenges: by listening carefully, analyzing systems, and working toward sustainable, evidence-based improvements. Through my experiences in health education, CPR instruction, as well as my work with children and families, I have seen firsthand how county programs and funding decisions can either remove barriers or unintentionally create them. These experiences have shaped my growing research interests in health equity and prevention, particularly how local policies and programs can reduce disparities and improve outcomes for underserved communities. Serving on a board or commission would allow me to contribute a thoughtful, community-centered perspective while learning from professionals across sectors and supporting initiatives that promote equitable and sustainable health outcomes throughout Wake County.

Wake County Board of Commissioners

Wake County Government

Dear Members of the Wake County Board of Commissioners,

I am writing to express my interest in serving on a Wake County Board or Commission and contributing to local decision-making that impacts community health and wellbeing. As a Biomedical Engineering major in the joint NC State + UNC program with minors in Biology and Public Policy, I am motivated by the opportunity to apply my academic training and community experience in a public service setting.

My academic background has shaped how I approach challenges: by identifying needs, analyzing systems, and designing solutions grounded in evidence and empathy. Alongside my coursework, my volunteer experiences have reinforced the importance of listening to communities and understanding the real-world impact of policy decisions.

As the founder of Care4Cardio, I organized CPR workshops, health education initiatives, and food drives to promote wellness and preventative care. I also served as Youth Committee Lead for a local volunteering organization, where I coordinated over 100 volunteers for community service and cultural events. These roles strengthened my skills in collaboration, responsibility, and accountability to the communities being served.

I have actively sought opportunities to engage with vulnerable populations through volunteering with Crisis Assistance Ministry, writing and donating a children's book to a Charlotte school, and collaborating with peers to develop an Arduino-based game to support inclusivity for children with low motor control.

Academically, my interests focus on health equity, prevention, and policy-driven approaches to reducing disparities. I am currently seeking research opportunities in health equity and cancer epidemiology and have been in contact with principal investigators to become involved. In parallel, I am pursuing my RBT certification and working towards gaining experience as a Medical Assistant to further develop my understanding of patient care and health systems.

I believe this combination of academic exploration, clinical exposure, and community engagement will allow me to contribute a thoughtful and informed perspective to a Wake County board or commission. Serving in this capacity would be an honor, and I am eager to contribute my skills, energy, and perspective to initiatives that support community health and wellbeing.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Abirami Senthil-Murugan

Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

I am driven by a commitment to applying psychological science to solve systemic community challenges, particularly those involving racial equity and public health. My current research focuses on how environmental cues and systemic biases impact decision-making and health outcomes. By serving on a board, I aim to bridge the gap between academic research and community policy, helping to develop data-driven strategies that address the root causes of delinquency and health disparities in Raleigh.

Work Experience

My professional and academic background is uniquely positioned at the intersection of public health, social equity, and the legal system, aligning directly with the missions of both the HHS Board and the JCPC. As a doctoral student in Applied Social Psychology at NC State University, my research examines the psychological mechanisms of racial bias, criminal decision-making, and the impact of racial trauma on public health. This expertise is critical for the JCPC's mandate to prioritize community risk factors and evaluate strategies for juvenile delinquency prevention. I recently completed an Internship at the Center for Family and Community Engagement, where I supported community-based initiatives addressing opioid use among youth and young adults. This role involved collaborating with public health partners and developing outreach materials, an experience that translates directly to the HHS Board's responsibility for advocacy and policy guidance in social services. Furthermore, my experience as a Lab Manager and Graduate Research Assistant has provided me with technical proficiency in data analysis and IRB protocol management, ensuring I can effectively contribute to the program evaluation and resource allocation duties required by both boards.

Volunteer Experience

My volunteer experience is rooted in civic engagement and community advocacy. I have volunteered with both local and university chapters of the NAACP, focusing on voting rights, organizational events, and community outreach. I also serve as a Graduate Peer Mentor and a Student Representative on diversity-focused committees, where I advocate for inclusive practices and provide guidance to peers navigating complex institutional systems. These roles have prepared me to represent broad community interests and advocate for equitable resource allocation.

Kyle A Walker

Education

I am currently pursuing a Ph.D. in Applied Social Psychology at North Carolina State University. I hold a Master of Science in Experimental Psychology from Georgia Southern University and a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology with a minor in Marketing from Georgia State University. My academic training has equipped me with advanced skills in qualitative and quantitative data analysis and a deep understanding of the psychological mechanisms underlying racial trauma, criminal justice, and public health.

Comments

My unique background combines high-level data visualization and analysis with a boots-on-the-ground approach to community engagement. As a new and hopefully long-term member of the Raleigh community, I am deeply invested and committed to the success and well-being of Raleigh's diverse populations. I am prepared to contribute my technical expertise and my passion for social justice to help the Council or Board achieve its mission of promoting safety and health for all citizens.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my interest in serving on either the Health & Human Services Advisory Board or the Juvenile Crime Prevention Council (JCPC). As a doctoral student in Applied Social Psychology at North Carolina State University, my career is dedicated to understanding how systemic factors like racial bias, intergroup threat, and police-community relationships influence decision-making and public health outcomes. My background uniquely combines high-level data analysis with hands-on community engagement, making me well-prepared to support the strategic goals of these boards.

My recent work directly mirrors the responsibilities of the Health & Human Services Board. As a Research Intern at the Center for Family and Community Engagement, I supported a community-based initiative addressing the youth opioid crisis. This role required me to collaborate with public health partners, develop outreach materials, and prepare reports for stakeholders; tasks that align with the board's mission to advocate for effective service delivery and resource allocation.

Furthermore, my extensive research into the legal system and racialized perceptions qualifies me to contribute meaningfully to the JCPC. I have led studies on the effects of cost-framing on sentencing and the impact of racial indicators on person perception. These insights are vital when reviewing the needs of at-risk juveniles and developing intervention strategies that reduce delinquency. I am also prepared to assist in evaluating program performance to ensure data-driven results for Wake County.

I am eager to apply my technical expertise and passion for social justice to serve the Raleigh community.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Kyle A. Walker

Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

I believe that civic engagement is the first step in societal change. I would like to use my knowledge and expertise to improve the quality of life for the people of North Carolina. Serving on a Board or Commission will afford me an opportunity to contribute to change and lasting impact.

Work Experience

My professional background spans strategy, evaluation, and systems improvement across public sector and nonprofit environments. I have held roles focused on translating complex policy and program goals into clear implementation strategies, including work with state and local agencies, education and workforce initiatives, and mission driven organizations. My experience includes analyzing data to inform decision making, facilitating cross functional stakeholder engagement, managing projects with multiple constraints, and assessing long term impact rather than short term outputs. This work has strengthened my ability to review proposals critically, ask the right questions, and contribute constructively to group deliberations. Combined with a strong commitment to community wellness and equity, my experience prepares me to serve as a thoughtful, reliable, and mission aligned board member.

Volunteer Experience

My volunteer experience reflects a long standing commitment to service, education, and community engagement. I am an active member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, where I have participated in service initiatives focused on education, civic engagement, and community uplift. In addition, I have served as a volunteer with the Wake County Public School System, supporting school based efforts that strengthen student learning and family engagement. Through these roles, I have gained firsthand insight into community needs, the importance of sustained volunteerism, and the value of collaboration between institutions and residents. This experience reinforces my commitment to public service and informs the perspective I bring to board and advisory work.

My educational background is grounded in education policy, human development, and systems thinking. I completed my undergraduate studies at Southern Methodist University, where I developed a strong foundation in analytical reasoning, social systems, and leadership. I later pursued graduate study at Teachers College, Columbia University, with advanced training focused on learning science, education research, program evaluation, and equity centered practice. My academic preparation emphasized evidence informed decision making, the relationship between educational environments and long term outcomes, and the role of public systems in supporting community well being. This educational foundation continues to shape how I approach complex policy and governance questions with rigor, clarity, and a long range perspective.

Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

I am interested in serving on a Wake County board or commission because I have dedicated my professional career and volunteer service to strengthening communities, supporting vulnerable populations, and improving systems that impact youth, families, and public safety. Through my work with the North Carolina Department of Adult Corrections, Vance County Detention Center, and the Granville County Sheriff's Office, I have gained extensive firsthand experience with the challenges individuals face within the criminal justice and human services systems. These roles have strengthened my commitment to advancing effective policies and community-based solutions. For the past three years and six months, I have also served as a Court-appointed Guardian ad Litem, advocating for abused and neglected children and ensuring their voices are represented in the NC court. This work has reinforced how essential strong support systems, early intervention, and interagency collaboration are for improving long-term outcomes. My dedication to service has been recognized through the Lifetime Presidential Achievement Award, the Mayor of Long Beach, California, and the Mayor of the City of Oxford, formerly Senator Mary Wills Bode, and I was also honored with an Honorary Doctorate in Humanitarianism for my longstanding commitment to community outreach and empowerment. In addition to my professional experience, I hold a wide range of academic credentials—including a Bachelor of Science, a Master of Divinity, a Doctor of Theology, and a Master of Public Administration—that provide a strong foundation for leadership and policy analysis. I am also a Notary Public, a role that reflects my commitment to integrity, accuracy, and public trust. My early work with the Peer Counseling Association of Jamaica, along with my ongoing service as a brand ambassador and community advocate, has shaped my passion for supporting families, vulnerable youth, and underserved communities. Serving on a Wake County board or commission aligns with my lifelong dedication to justice, equity, and public service. I want to contribute my experience, insight, and commitment to helping shape policies and initiatives that strengthen community safety, improve human services, and expand opportunities for all residents. I believe my background, leadership experience, and deep commitment to service will allow me to make a meaningful and positive contribution to Wake County.

I have worked with Kittrell Job corp, Eckerd Connect Girls Academy for Juvenile Delinquency, NC Department of Adult Corrections, Granville County Sheriffs, Vance County Detention, Peer Counseling Association of Jamaica, NY Presbyterian Hospital, Maria Parham Hospital, Duke Regional Hospital, EDSI (NC works) and also have been in the Security Industry as armed Security. I have also worked with Guardian Angel Healthcare with individuals with Intellectual disabilities.

I have Volunteered with Immigrants Responding to Crisis (IRTC) IN NY, Guardian Ad Litem (GAL). I previous had a 501c3 whereas I did charity and community outreach in USA, Jamaica, Ghana, Nigeria, Kenya, South Africa, Uganda and few others. I have also done other community services for different churches and organizations.

I attended Merl Grove High School in Jamaica. I have obtained a Bachelor's degree in Health Science, Master of Divinity, Doctorate in Theology and recently graduated in September with a Master of Public Administration with High Distinction. I have also acquired other certifications which enhance my career in the Justice system such as Criminology and criminal psychology.

I have obtained an Award in January of this year from President Joe Biden for the Presidential Lifetime Achievement Awards and also last year May 2024 I was honored with an Honorary Doctorate in Humanitarianism. I am a Notary Public as well.

Wake County Government
Boards & Commissions Office
Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear Members of the Boards and Commissions Selection Committee,

I am writing to express my interest in serving on a Wake County Board or Commission. With extensive professional experience in law enforcement, juvenile justice, child advocacy, and community outreach, I am deeply committed to supporting the systems that protect and empower families, youth, and vulnerable populations. My background working with the NC Department of Adult Corrections, the Granville County Sheriff's Office, and the Vance County Detention Center has given me firsthand insight into the challenges individuals face within our justice and human service systems. These experiences have strengthened my dedication to contributing meaningful, solution-focused leadership at the county level.

For the past three years and five months, I have served as a Guardian ad Litem Advocate, ensuring that the voices and best interests of abused and neglected children are represented in court. Through this work, I have developed a deep understanding of how early intervention, trauma-informed service delivery, and interagency collaboration can change the trajectory of a child's life. My continued volunteer service reflects my belief that strong communities are built through compassion, accountability, and systems that work together effectively.

My lifelong commitment to service has been recognized through the Presidential Lifetime Achievement Award and an Honorary Doctorate in Humanitarianism, acknowledging my community outreach both locally and internationally. In Jamaica, I worked with the Peer Counseling Association, where I gained foundational experience in youth support, mentorship, and community empowerment. As a Brand Ambassador and nonprofit founder, I have also led charitable initiatives aimed at addressing social needs and uplifting underserved populations.

I bring a strong academic foundation with a Bachelor of Science in Health Science, a Master of Divinity, a Doctor of Theology, and my ongoing Master of Public Administration studies. I am also a commissioned Notary Public in North Carolina, underscoring my commitment to ethics, accuracy, and public trust. Combined with my professional and volunteer experience, I am confident that I can contribute thoughtful, informed, and community-centered leadership to Wake County.

I am eager to support the county's efforts in juvenile justice, human services, criminal justice initiatives, domestic violence prevention, housing, or civic oversight. Serving on a board or commission would allow me to use my experience, compassion, and policy understanding to strengthen public systems and promote equitable outcomes for all Wake County residents.

Thank you for your consideration. I would welcome the opportunity to serve and contribute to the impactful work being done in our county. Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,
Althenia Latty Amakeze
