

Eularia Glenn
Administrative Services Coordinator II
Revenue Department

Eularia Glenn began working with Wake County in December 1989. She was hired as a cashier for the Tax Collector's Office, where she collected property tax payments at the Collector's Satellite location in the Wake County Courthouse.

Eularia was quickly promoted over the next four years from cashier to Accounting Technician I and II then Accounting Technician III, with a working title of Accounting Supervisor. She performed multiple accounting functions for the department including monitoring and balancing receipts, while also overseeing staff cash handling.

When the Tax Collector and Assessor's Office merged to become the Revenue Department, Eularia's title changed to Revenue Agent and she continued handling accounting functions for the combined Departments. In 2008 she was promoted to Administrative Services Coordinator I which came with the added responsibilities of contract management, budget support and maintenance, and department HR representative for 67 employees. Eularia was proficient, reliable and performed her duties with great accuracy. In 2012 she was promoted to Administrative Service Coordinator II and joined the department's core team of trainers who hired and trained new Revenue Agents during their first year of employment. She later assumed the leadership role for this team. Eularia is pleasant, professional and well-liked by all staff.

Eularia will retire with 29 years of service. Her immediate plans include travelling with her husband to visit family members. After that she plans to complete multiple family projects and spend more time with her grandchildren.

Please join me in congratulating Eularia on her retirement.
