II. Athens Drive Public Library

Ashley Jacobs, County Manager's Office

The existing Athens Drive Library is located within Athens Drive High School. Wake County Public Schools will soon undertake a significant renovation of the school. For security and other reasons, the renovated school will not include a library within the physical building. This has led to consideration of alternatives for the existing library.

County staff have spent significant time and effort evaluating options to replace the library. In this presentation, staff will review the County's general library siting criteria and review the history of this project. Staff will then share location options with the Board, and how those options align with the criteria.

Staff will ask the Board for guidance and direction on the library's location.
