RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

North Carolina Clean Energy Technology Center (July 2014 - Present)

Raleigh, North Carolina

North Carolina Solar Center (Previous to July 2014)

Executive Director, November 2006 - Present

Direct the strategic vision of the NC Clean Energy Technology Center and its programs, including activities in renewable energy, clean power and energy efficiency technologies, green buildings, and clean transportation. Programs range from applied research, testing, technical assistance, economic development, public policy (including DSIRE), STEM education and workforce development.

Deputy Director for Policy and Development, August 2001 - November 2006

Directed day-to-day function of Policy and Outreach Program at the Center. Coordinated and conducted training across the country on distributed generation interconnection issues under contract for the Interstate Renewable Energy Council. Managed the Database of State Incentives for Renewables and Efficiency (DSIRE) project, including a team of policy analysts conducting policy research and comparative state analysis regarding clean energy regulation and legislation. Wrote over thirty proposals across numerous technology areas in response to funding agencies' competitive RFP solicitations with a high success rate.

Clean Technologies Consulting

Washington D.C.

President, May 1998 - August 2001

McNeil Technologies

Springfield, Virginia

Project Manager, January 2001 - July 2001
