

Thee McAllister
Senior Facilities Technician
General Services Administration

Thee McAllister started his career with Wake County in December 1981. Thee's first job was with the general maintenance group, where he moved furniture, assisted other trade shops, and worked in the carpentry shop making cabinets. After five years, he moved to the plumbing shop as a Utility Worker, later being promoted to a Senior Facilities Technician.

Thee has always been a dedicated employee and provided excellent customer service. His vast knowledge of plumbing systems in the Wake County buildings has been an asset over the years. Thee has always demonstrated a positive outlook and has embraced the County's growing, complex and diverse portfolio.

Thee will retire on July 1 with almost 37 years of service to Wake County. His warm smile and customer service will be greatly missed by his colleagues in GSA and many friends throughout Wake County.

In retirement, Thee plans to continue to be a minister at The Church of Jesus Holy Tabernacle in Raleigh where he has been a minister for 25 years. He also plans to spend time with his family, especially his new grandbaby, working on personal goals, and continuing to make contributions to his community.

Please join me in congratulating Thee on his retirement.
