Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

I am interested in giving back to the community and helping with something I am passionate about. The boards I've showed interest in are all things that I have some background or knowledge in. I would love to give my spare time to the county that I call home. I have extensive knowledge in government, especially local government, and a love for volunteering.

Work Experience

I worked in local government in a small town near Charlotte as a Communications Specialist and Clerk while I worked on my Master of Public Administration. When I graduated, I knew I wanted to work for the state to learn more and serve my home state. I currently work as a Public Information Officer for the NC Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services. I write, edit and publish press releases and speeches for the department.

Volunteer Experience

Parkway cleanups, coaching soccer, tutoring in Spanish, volunteering at local events.

Education

Appalachian State University -Bachelor of Science in Communication, Journalism Appalachian State University -Bachelor of Arts in Spanish Arkansas State University -Master of Public Administration

Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

I have lived in Wake County (Raleigh) since 2003, and because of my education, training and experience, I feel I am in a unique position to give back to the county and help leaders make informed decisions.

Work Experience

I have over thirteen years working for the State and over ten years in the private sector. I have experience in NEPA, SEPA, FERC permitting, impoundment permitting, water supply permitting, general 401 permitting, storm water requirements for 401 permitting, wetland and stream delineation, and GIS analysis.

Volunteer Experience

I have presented and educated Wake county school kids on environmental and natural resources issues in elementary and middle school. Currently, I am a volunteer for Catnip, a group of two vets, vet assistants, and volunteers who set up a clinic once a month to spay/neuter feral cats that are trapped and brought in by volunteers.

Education

I hold degrees in Landscape Design from NC State University and Environmental Geography with a Biogeography Emphasis from Austin Peay State University. I also hold a degree in Culinary Arts from Johnson & Wales University.

Comments

I have worked in every county in the state, and have positive relationships with natural resources and water officials at every level of government. I think I could prove to be an invaluable resource for the county.

Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a Board or Commission?

We recently moved to Cary and I have always been involved in the community where we live. It's important to give back and support that community on a local, county and state level.

Work Experience

I was a practicing attorney in New Jersey for many years and then relocated to Florida. There, as a license title agent, I worked in the Title department of a Timeshare company as a compliance director. We recently moved to the Raleigh area to be nearer to our children. I currently work in for a software company as the Manger of the documents department.

Volunteer Experience

I served on the local Board of Adjustment in Montclair, NJ and served as the Chair of the Coral Springs Planning and Zoning Board for several years while residing in Florida. I also served as a member on the Early Childhood Council. Additionally, I chaired the Young Women's Leadership Symposium for the Florida Diversity Council.

Education

I received my B.A. in Political Science from Upsala College and my J.D. from Seton Hall School of Law.

A PROFILE OF HORACE SMITH

Horace Smith is the son of the late Archie and Hattie Smith; the grandson of the late Jack and Cornelia Smith; and the great-grandson of the late Archie and Rachal Smith. Horace was born on a farm near Clarkton, North Carolina and graduated from Booker T. Washington High School in Clarkton. He currently resides in Raleigh, North Carolina. In 1964, he graduated from Virginia State University in Petersburg, Virginia with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agronomy (Soil Science). He began his career as a soil scientist with the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Soil Conservation Service (SCS) in June 1964 in Champaign, Illinois. In later years, the agency changed its name to USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS). In 1972, Horace was awarded the Master of Science degree in Soil Genesis and Classification from The Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. He has done further graduate studies at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, Illinois; Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan; and Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas. In 1997, Horace graduated from the Federal Executive Institute in Charlottesville, Virginia and was inducted into the Federal Senior Executive Service that same year.

Horace has worked with the SCS/NRCS in progressively more responsible positions in Illinois, Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Georgia, and Washington, D.C. In 1974, he was selected to the position of Project Leader for the District of Columbia Soil Survey, the first all-urban soil survey ever conducted in the United States. This project represented USDA's contribution to the United States Bicentennial, which culminated in 1976. Other key positions he has held include: Assistant Principal Soil Correlator at the Northeast National Technical Center, Broomall, Pennsylvania; State Soil Scientist, Raleigh, North Carolina; and Regional Soil Scientist, Atlanta, Georgia. Horace has received numerous awards during his career, including the prestigious George Washington Carver Public Service Hall of Fame Award and the North Carolina Soil Science Society Annual Achievement Award. He was recently recognized on the Wall of Fame at the National Soil Survey Center in Lincoln, Nebraska for "Excellence in the Field of Soil Survey Leadership."

He has represented his agency on short-term international assignments to Canada, Mexico, West Africa, Taiwan, Brazil, Italy, Spain, and Denmark. He has written several technical reports and scientific articles on anthropogenic soils, production soil survey, and related topics. Horace's most recent position was Director of the Soil Survey Division, NRCS, Washington, D.C. He held that position from November 1996 until his retirement. In that position, Horace provided leadership for the federal part of the National Cooperative Soil Survey, and in planning, directing, and coordinating the agency's comprehensive Soil Survey Program. His duties also included overall leadership and guidance for the National Soil Survey Center in Lincoln, Nebraska and the Soil Quality Institute at Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa. He was a major contributor to the exhibit at the Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History in Washington, D.C. entitled "Dig It! The Secrets of Soil."

Horace is a member of the American Society of Agronomy, Soil Science Society of America, International Union of Soil Sciences, and the Soil Science Society of North Carolina. He is a registered soil scientist with the American Registry of Certified

Professionals in Agronomy, Crops and Soils, and the North Carolina Registry of Certified Professionals in Soils.

Horace is married to the former Myra Dawn Parrish of Madison Heights, Virginia and they are the proud parents of three grown children--Cherie, Christopher, and Stacy; and grandparents of Sarah. His hobbies include reading, photography, gardening/landscaping, travel, golf, and volunteering.

After 38 years of public service, Horace retired from the NRCS on January 3, 2002. He currently is a part-time consultant in soil and natural resources and serves on the Wake County Sustainability Task Force. He is also Chairman of the Board of Deacons at Martin Street Baptist Church in Raleigh, North Carolina and a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.
