

Mae "Alene" Watson
Care Coordination for Children (CC4C) Nursing Supervisor
Human Services

Alene began her nursing career with Wake County Public Health on August 20, 1979. Alene has been fortunate to have always been placed in the Northern part of Wake County (Wake Forest) as her base. She has watched families through several generations demonstrate changes for the better through education and improved medical care.

For the majority of her career, Alene has been a home visiting nurse. Currently she is a nursing supervisor for the Care Coordination for Children Program, serving families with children from birth to five years. She is based in the Northern Regional Center in Wake Forest where she loves working the numerous programs that are housed there.

Alene will retire on December 31, 2019 from Wake County Human Services, after 40 years of service in Public Health. Retirement plans are to travel, travel, travel! She will still be serving the public by being a part of the Soapstone Methodist Emergency Response Teams and going to disaster sites as needed. She will also be spending quality time with her rescue dog, Bear.

Special note from Alene: It has been a pleasure to be able to work with such dedicated and talented professionals within Wake County. I am especially thankful for the wonderful benefits Wake County Commissioners have given us. While I will not be needing the 8-week paid parental leave, recently one of my staff was able to use this. Being in the Maternal Child Health Program, I am very proud of the commitment Wake County places for new mothers and fathers.
