

Lieutenant Seth Webb Wake County Sheriff's Office

On Nov. 1, 2020 Lieutenant Detention Officer Seth Webb will retire from the Wake County Sheriff's Office after 29 years of dedicated service.

Officer Webb was born in Jamaica Queens, New York. He moved to North Carolina as a teenager and graduated from Broughton High School in Raleigh. In June 1991, he was preparing to attend Shaw University but instead was offered a position as a Detention Officer by Sheriff John Baker.

Peers describe Officer Webb as a hard worker with outstanding leadership and interpersonal skills. Throughout his career, he had the opportunity to work in every capacity of the jail. His devotion and dedication to the Detention Division of the Sheriff's Office will be greatly missed.

During retirement, Officer Webb plans to travel and spend time with his family and friends, as well as enjoy good spirits, fine cigars and lots of golf. He also plans on supporting his beloved Tarheels of the greatest University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

Thank you, Officer Webb, for your decades of dedicated service to the people of Wake County. Enjoy your well-earned retirement!
